Rediscover the child within

The background image shows the interior of KidZania London, a child-friendly venue. It features a large, open-plan space with numerous wooden tables and metal chairs arranged for seating. In the foreground, there's a large, ornate metal structure that looks like a globe or a complex mechanical piece. The walls are decorated with various signs, including "KidZania National University" on the left and "KidZania" on the right. A clock is visible on the upper wall. The lighting is warm and ambient, creating a welcoming atmosphere.
